

Join us to stimulate the debate on the future of Europe

General description:

The European Commission is seeking a group of motivated young multipliers with established credibility to support the debate on the future of Europe. If you become part of the group, you will engage citizens in debating the future of Europe and promoting the added value of the EU.

Your profile and personal commitment should guarantee that full political neutrality is displayed in all activities with particular regard to those activities performed in the run up to the European elections.

Profile<sup>1</sup>:

1. Good visibility on social media, preferably via a business page/fan page;
2. Ability to run own events (e.g. at schools, EDIC premises, etc.) and on-line campaigns on the future of Europe;
3. Enjoy bringing people together, including by speaking in public;
4. Willingness to speak at EDIC-organised events;
5. Ability to engage/interact with an audience and to cope with criticism;
6. Good working knowledge of English;
7. Willingness to attend relevant meetings organised by EDICs, Representations, European Parliament and European Parliament Liaison Offices, as the case may be.

Responsibilities:

- Engage with audiences on the future of Europe via events (e.g. at schools, EDIC premises, etc.) and on-line campaigns;
- Stay in touch with the local EDICs and provide them with support whenever feasible;
- Use and disseminate communication material from the European Commission and the European Parliament;
- Refer to EDICs and other EU information and assistance networks, where appropriate.

---

<sup>1</sup> Some individuals may be active social media users while others may be good event organisers and speakers.

Commitment:

- 1.5-day meeting in Brussels <sup>2</sup>. The European Commission will explain the project mission and together with the European Parliament will equip you with the knowledge and latest tools necessary to involve citizens in an informed debate. In addition, you will share your own experience and vision on how to communicate Europe.

Recognition for you:

- The opportunity to attend specialised skills- and knowledge training given by the European Commission and the European Parliament;
- Great experience for your CV and the provision of a reference or certificate upon request.

The procedure:

- In case you are retained, the European Commission will invite you to the 2019 meeting;
- You will submit an activity report in English to the Commission Representation in your country before the end of 2019. Details will follow during the February meeting.

---

<sup>2</sup> Travel, accommodation and catering will be provided by the European Commission free of charge. The meeting will start on Monday 18 February 2019 at 9.00 CET and will finish on Tuesday 19 February 2019 at 13.00 CET.
